Luxury lever handle used by a great modernist architect
This is one of the handles that the great German photographer and designer Max Burchartz developed for manufacturer Wehag, and that the expatriate architect Berthold Lubetkin used on Highpoint 1 & 2 and on private houses in the UK. The handle, set on a neat backplate, is both of its era and timeless in its elegant design. It will work well on a door where a smaller backplate is wanted. Like all izé luxury door hardware, the lever handle is available in the full range of izé materials.

length : 125

Projection : 75 mm

Optional specifications : backplate length: 88 mm backplate width: 55 mm
